

SYLLABUS

SUBJECT: LAW

TEACHER : ANNA JACEK

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Subject: Law consists of the program content enabling the acquisition of knowledge in the scope of the so-called medical law and other scopes i.e. the civil, labour, commercial and administrative law directly connected with the performance of the job by nurses.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

The use and interpretation of legal regulations, the preparation, from the formal and legal point of view, of the setting up of a nurse practice in every organisational form and the use of knowledge of the legal issues in the professional practice and everyday life.

GRADING POLICY

The condition of receiving a credit is the presence at the lectures.
There is only one unexcused absence permissible during the lectures.

TIME TABLE

Course name	Number of hours
Binding regulations concerning health service institutions.	1
System, formation and regulations of functioning of health service institutions.	1
Legal regulations concerning the performance of the job of a nurse	1
Insurance system in Poland	1
System of benefit grants concerning pregnancy, delivery and disability	1
Functioning of the system of common health insurance taking the rules of concluding the contract for granting health benefits by the National Health Fund into consideration	1
System of financing contracts for granting benefits of health service in the context of financing of benefit-givers of medical service market	1
Performing the job of a nurse within the regulations in force in the National Health Fund	1

Chosen issues in the scope of administrative law and administrative proceedings connected with the formation and organisation of job practice of a nurse/midwife	1
Elements of commercial law and labour law connected with the performance of a job of a nurse/midwife	1
Elements of civil law in the health protection	1
Professional self-government of nurses and midwives and the civil, penal, work and professional responsibility of a nurse/midwife	1
Claims of patients in case of the inadequate performance of a job by a nurse/midwife	1
Elementary rights of a patient and claims under the infringement of the patient's rights	1
Medical documentation – binding legal regulations	1

TEXTBOOK AND REQUIRED MATERIALS

1. Cave E., Seen but not heard? Children in Clinical Trials, Medical Law Review, Number 1, Winter 2010
2. Ash S., Mello M. M., Foster Ch., Tingle J. and Jo S., The role of clinical guidelines in medical negligence litigation: A shift from the Bolam Standard?, Medical Law Review, Autumn 2006.
3. Irvine L., The patient, The Doctor, their lawyers and the Judge: Rights and Duties, Medical Law Review, 7, Autumn 1999.
4. McHale J. V., Medical Malpractice in England – Current Trends, European Journal of Health Law, 2003, Nr 1
5. Jean V. McHale., Rights to medical treatment in EU Law, ?, Medical Law Review, January 2007

PREREQUISITES:

The student knows and understands: the regulations concerning the functioning of health service institutions and the system of the common health insurance, the forms of the performance of medical professions and the occupational self-governments, the laws of the patient and the regulations of the labour, commercial, administrative and civil law concerning the setting up and the organisation of medical professions, the regulations of the professional, civil, penal and service responsibility under the performance of the profession of a nurse.