

English speaking nations most overweight

From http://www.BreakingNewsEnglish.com/1009/100925-being_overweight.html

Six of the seven countries with the highest obesity rates are English-speaking nations. This is according to a new report from the OECD (Organization for Economic Co-Operation and Development). The country at the top of the list is the USA. This is followed by Mexico, New Zealand, Australia, the United Kingdom, Canada and Ireland. The OECD looked at 33 different countries. The other 26 countries were non-English speaking. The ten slimmest countries included Japan, Korea, Italy, Switzerland and Sweden. Health experts are now wondering why English-speaking countries top the world's obesity league. One theory is that they are all copying an American lifestyle; people eat a lot of fast food and a lot of it is in sizes considerably larger than those found in the rest of the world. The OECD report contains some interesting statistics. Australia has the fastest growing obesity rates. They are expected to rise by another 15 per cent over the next decade. This compares to an increase of five per cent in South Korea. Education makes a big difference to weight in America and Sweden. Poorly educated women are 30 per cent more likely to be overweight than those who had a good education. Swedish women with poor educations are more than twice as overweight as educated women. In the USA and UK, children are particularly overweight. Around 30 per cent of British kids are overweight, compared with 40 per cent for their American counterparts. In Sweden, one person in ten is obese, although more than half of adult men and a third of adult women are overweight there.

WARM-UPS

1. BEING OVERWEIGHT:

Walk around the class and talk to other students about being overweight. Change partners often. Sit with your first partner(s) and share your findings.

2. CHAT:

In pairs / groups, decide which of these topics or words from the article are most interesting and which are most boring.

obesity rates / being overweight / lists / slimmest / health experts / lifestyle / sizes / reports / interesting statistics / the next decade / education / counterparts.

Have a chat about the topics you liked. Change topics and partners frequently.

3. OBESITY:

What causes obesity? Complete this table with your partner(s). Change partners and share what you wrote. Change and share again.

	How to reduce this problem
Fast food
Computer games
Too much money
Poor education
Serving sizes
Greed

4. A THING OF THE PAST:

Students A strongly believe obesity will become a thing of the past;
Students B strongly believe the opposite. Change partners again and talk about your conversations.

5. FATTENING?:

Naughty but nice? Rank these twice and share your lists and rankings with your partner(s). Put the naughtiest at the top of list 1 and the nicest at the top of list 2. Change partners and share your lists and rankings again.

•hamburgers •bananas •pizza •KFC •chocolate •fried rice •spaghetti
•ice cream

6. LIFESTYLE:

Spend one minute writing down all of the different words you associate with the word 'lifestyle'. Share your words with your partner(s) and talk about them. Together, put the words into different categories.

BEFORE READING / LISTENING

1. TRUE / FALSE:

Read the headline. Guess if a-h below are true (T) or false (F).

- English speakers are more likely to be overweight. T / F
- Six of the top seven fattest countries are English-speaking nations. T / F
- A report looked at people's weight in 133 countries. T / F
- Experts believe American lifestyle is affecting other English speakers.
T / F
- Australia has the slowest growing rates of obesity. T / F
- In Korea, obesity levels will rise 15% this decade. T / F
- A poor education in Sweden doubles a woman's likelihood to be obese. T/F
- British kids tend to be fatter than American ones. T / F

2. SYNONYM MATCH:

Match the following synonyms from the article.

- | | |
|-----------------|----------------|
| 1.rates | a. hypothesis |
| 2.experts | b. especially |
| 3.theory | c. replicating |
| 4.copying | d. increase |
| 5.considerably | e. levels |
| 6.statistics | f. probable |
| 7.rise | g. data |
| 8.likely | h. specialists |
| 9.particularly | i. equals |
| 10.counterparts | j. a lot |

3. PHRASE MATCH:

(Sometimes more than one choice is possible.)

- | | |
|-------------------------------------|---------------------------|
| 1. countries with the highest | a. by the USA |
| 2. according to a | b. as educated women |
| 3. This is followed | c. larger |
| 4. Health experts are now wondering | d. big difference |
| 5. considerably | e. new report |
| 6. The OECD report contains some | f. another 15 per cent |
| 7. expected to rise by | g. obesity rates |
| 8. Education makes a | h. counterparts |
| 9. more than twice as overweight | i. why |
| 10.their American | j. interesting statistics |

GAP FILL:

Put the words into the gaps in the text.

Six of the seven countries with the highest obesity _____ are English-speaking nations. This is _____ to a new report from the OECD (Organization for Economic Co-Operation and Development). The country at the top of the _____ is the USA. This is _____ by Mexico, New Zealand, Australia, the United Kingdom, Canada and Ireland. The OECD looked at 33 different countries. The other 26 countries were non-English speaking. The ten _____ countries included Japan, Korea, Italy, Switzerland and Sweden. Health _____ are now wondering why English-speaking countries top the world's obesity _____. One theory is that they are all copying an American lifestyle; people eat a lot of fast food and a lot of it is in _____ considerably larger than those found in the rest of the world.
league

slimmest list rates experts sizes according followed

The OECD report contains some interesting _____. Australia has the fastest growing obesity rates. They are expected to _____ by another 15 per cent over the next _____. This compares to an increase of five per cent in South Korea. Education makes a big difference to weight in America and Sweden. Poorly _____ women are 30 per cent more likely to be overweight than those who had a good education. Swedish women with _____ educations are more than twice as overweight as educated women. In the USA and UK, children are _____ overweight. Around 30 per cent of British kids are overweight, compared with 40 per cent for their American _____. In Sweden, one person in ten is _____, although more than half of adult men and a third of adult women are overweight there.

decade obese rise poor counterparts statistics educated particularly

LISTENING – Listen and fill in the gaps

Six of the seven countries with _____ are English-speaking nations. This _____ report from the OECD (Organization for Economic Co-Operation and Development). The country at _____ is the USA. This is followed by Mexico, New Zealand, Australia, the United Kingdom, Canada and Ireland. The OECD looked at 33 different countries. The other 26 countries were non-English speaking. The ten slimmest countries included Japan, Korea, Italy, Switzerland and Sweden. _____ wondering why English-speaking countries top _____. One theory is that they are all copying an American lifestyle; people eat a lot of fast food and a lot of it is in _____ than those found in the rest of the world. The OECD report contains _____. Australia has the fastest growing obesity rates. They are expected to rise by another 15 per cent _____. This compares to an increase of five per cent in South Korea. Education makes a big difference to weight in America and Sweden. _____ are 30 per cent more likely to be overweight than those who had a good education. Swedish _____ are more than twice as overweight as educated women. In the USA and UK, children _____. Around 30 per cent of British kids are overweight, compared with 40 per cent for _____. In Sweden, one person in ten is obese, although more than half of adult men and a third of adult women are overweight there.

LETTER:

Write a letter to a health expert. Ask him/her three questions about being overweight. Give him/her three suggestions on how to lose weight. Read your letter to your partner(s) in your next lesson. Your partner(s) will answer your questions. /100-150 words/

ANSWERS

TRUE / FALSE:

- a.T
- b.T
- c.F
- d.T
- e.F
- f.F
- g.T
- h.F

SYNONYM MATCH:

- | | |
|-----------------|---------------|
| 1.rates | a.levels |
| 2.experts | b.specialists |
| 3.theory | c.hypothesis |
| 4.copying | d.replicating |
| 5.considerably | e.a lot |
| 6.statistics | f.data |
| 7.rise | g.increase |
| 8.likely | h.probable |
| 9.particularly | i.especially |
| 10.counterparts | j.equals |

PHRASE MATCH:

- | | |
|------------------------------------|--------------------------|
| 1.countries with the highest | a.obesity rates |
| 2.according to a | b.new report |
| 3.This is followed | c.by the USA |
| 4.Health experts are now wondering | d.why |
| 5.considerably | e.larger |
| 6.The OECD report contains some | f.interesting statistics |
| 7.expected to rise by | g.another 15 per cent |
| 8.Education makes a | h.big difference |
| 9.more than twice as overweight | i.as educated women |
| 10.their American | j.counterparts |

GAP FILL:

English speaking nations most overweight Six of the seven countries with the highest obesity rates are English-speaking nations. This is according to a new report from the OECD (Organization for Economic Co-Operation and Development). The country at the top of the list is the USA. This is followed by Mexico, New Zealand, Australia, the United Kingdom, Canada and Ireland. The OECD looked at 33 different countries. The other 26 countries were non-English speaking. The ten slimmest countries included Japan, Korea, Italy, Switzerland and Sweden. Health experts are now wondering why English-speaking countries top the world's obesity league. One theory is that they are all copying an American lifestyle; people eat a lot of fast food and a lot of it is in sizes considerably larger than those found in the rest of the world. The OECD report contains some interesting statistics. Australia has the fastest growing obesity rates. They are expected to rise by another 15 per cent over the next decade. This compares to an increase of five per cent in South Korea. Education makes a big difference to weight in America and Sweden. Poorly educated women are 30 per cent more likely to be overweight than those who had a good education. Swedish women with poor educations are more than twice as overweight as educated women. In the USA and UK, children are particularly overweight. Around 30 per cent of British kids are overweight, compared with 40 per cent for their American counterparts. In Sweden, one person in ten is obese, although more than half of adult men and a third of adult women are overweight there.

Opracowała: mgr Joanna Sztaba-Surowiec

Ćwiczenia na licencji Creative Commons

Mgr Joanna Sztaba-Surowiec