

Łukasz Lewkowicz

Łukasz Lewkowicz – PhD in Political Science. Assistant Professor at the Institute of Political Science and Administration at the Maria Curie-Skłodowska University in Lublin. Senior Analyst at the Institute of Central Europe in Lublin from 2019 to 2026.

His research interests focus primarily on Polish-Slovak relations, Slovakia's domestic and foreign policy, the functioning of the Visegrad Group and the Three Seas Initiative, cross-border cooperation in Central Europe, and the history of speleology. He undertook a student internship at the Embassy of the Republic of Poland in Bratislava. He has also completed numerous research internships in Slovakia, the Czech Republic and Lithuania. He has received the Maria Skłodowska University Rector's Award on multiple occasions for outstanding organisational and research activities. Author of numerous academic articles, books and analyses.