

Aleksandra Kruk

Aleksandra Kruk holds a postdoctoral degree in social sciences, specialising in political science, which she obtained from the Faculty of Political Science and Journalism at Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań. She is currently affiliated with the Institute of Political Science and Administration at the University of Zielona Góra. As a member of the Polish Political Science Association and the Polish Association for European Studies, her academic research focuses on European studies, German foreign and domestic policy, political parties and political biographies.