

Ewa Godlewska

Ewa Godlewska – Professor at Maria Skłodowska University in Lublin, PhD candidate, Head of the Department of Political Systems and Human Rights, based at the Institute of Political Science and Administration at Maria Skłodowska University in Lublin. Her research interests include the migration and integration policies of contemporary European states and human rights in Europe. Author of books and articles on the above-mentioned topics. Member of the Polish Political Science Association. Co-researcher on the National Science Centre project ‘Beyond borders: the role of local government in the long-term integration of Ukrainian refugees. Examples from Poland and the Czech Republic’.