

Iva Parenta

Iva Parenta is an Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Law, University of Rijeka, Croatia, and a member of the Chair of Criminal Procedure Law. Her teaching and research focus on criminal procedure, particularly questions of criminal responsibility, procedural safeguards, and fair trial guarantees. Her work addresses issues such as the presumption of innocence, evidentiary matters, and doctrinal challenges of contemporary criminal justice. She has participated in several research projects and currently serves as the principal investigator of a project on combating corruption and organized crime.