

Magdalena Lesińska-Staszczuk

Magdalena Lesińska-Staszczuk, Ph.D., Assistant Professor at the Department of Political Systems and Human Rights, Institute of Political Science and Public Administration, Faculty of Political Science and Journalism, Maria Skłodowska–Curie University. Research interests: human rights in the European Union, women’s rights, discrimination on various grounds (gender, age, religion, racial, national and ethnic origin). Author of publications on the EU, women’s rights and discrimination in the modern world. She has organised workshops and expert meetings for students in collaboration with Europe Direct, the Regional Centre for International Debates and foundations working to build civil society.