

Maria Marczevska-Rytka

Maria Marczevska-Rytka, Full Professor, political scientist and scholar of religion; Chair of Research Committee 21 “Political Socialization and Education” of IPSA; Head of the Department of Political Movements and Ethnic Studies at the Faculty of Political Science and Journalism, Maria Curie-Skłodowska University (UMCS); Editor-in-Chief of Annales UMCS, sectio K: Politologia. She is the author, editor, and co-editor of several scholarly monographs devoted to European integration; populism; direct, electronic, and deliberative democracy; the social thought of the world’s major religions; hacktivism; new social movements; feminism; ecologism; social and political participation; and state–religious community relations. She has led numerous research grants funded, among others, by COST, the International Visegrad Fund, the National Science Centre (NCN), the Polish National Agency for Academic Exchange (NAWA), and the State Committee for Scientific Research (KBN).

All publications: <https://www.umcs.pl/pl/adres-book-employee,1714>

E-mail contact: m_marczevska@yahoo.com.